A Prayer for Independence Day — July 4

O Merciful Father in heaven, from You comes all rule and authority over the nations of the world for the punishment of evildoers and for the praise of those who do good. Graciously regard Your servants, those who make, administer and judge the laws of this nation, and look in mercy upon all the rulers of the earth. Grant that all who receive the sword as Your servants may bear it according to Your command. Enlighten and defend them, and grant them wisdom and understanding, that under their peaceable governance Your people may be guarded and directed in righteousness, quietness and unity. Protect and prolong their lives that we with them may show forth the praise of Your name; through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

From Your Pastor

I was recently "inspired" to write the following on a quick visit to Kopp's on Bluemound. In the central lobby of the frozen custard mecca you will find a bill board listing the "100 Reasons To Buy a Kopp's Gift Card." Under the assumption that there are many reasons for attending worship, here my top 45 reasons for being in church, in no particular order. Perhaps you can add a few of your own ideas? As you think about it, you'll quickly realize that gathering around God's Word and Sacrament is the center of our Christian lives, and rightly so.

1. To receive the gifts of God that flow freely and lavishly from His grace.
2. Because you love the habitation of the Lord's house, the place where His glory dwells.
3. To give thanks to the God of heaven and earth because you can't imagine not doing so.
4. For the sake of evangelism, to bear witness to your family and neighbors that regular worship of the Triune God is important, even when you'd rather sleep in!
5. Because we want to have a front-row seat in hearing God's Word proclaimed in all its truth and beauty.
6. Because you want to instill in your kids the habit of regular worship attendance.
7. Because you want your children and family members to know that your Pastors love them. (It's true!)
8. Because Jesus wants the little children to be brought into His presence.
9. To see that cute lady or handsome young man again. :0)
10. To joyfully give your first fruits offering in person.
11. To get a hug from someone who loves you in Christ when you're grieving the death of a loved one.
12. To thank God for another year of married life to your favorite person.
13. To find hope in the midst of a troubled marriage or relationship.
14. To sing the songs of the Church that proclaim Christ and Him crucified.
15. To hear the unique gift of Mr Ewert's virtuosity on the organ.
16. To revel in the talent God has given to our choir, hand-bells, and musicians of all stripes.
17. To look for ways to volunteer on boards or in teaching Sunday School.
18. To thank God for the beauty He's given us at EGL in our grounds and to thank those among us who serve on the Green Team and Garden Ladies, and those who clean and care for our building.
19. Because it gladdens your heart to see the school-age children in worship, learning the language of the faith and contributing to our life together as choir members, Altar Guild volunteers, ushers, crucifers and torch bearers.
20. Because you desire to listen attentively to God's Word for direction in life.
21. To learn by word and example from older Christian men and women what it means to be a godly adult.
22. To look for ways to build up of the Kingdom of God in this place.
23. To catch up with friends around coffee and donuts after a week's work.
24. To thank God for a new job or a successful year at college.
25. To thank God for the vocational skills God gave you to work with your hands for the support of your neighbor.
26. Because God's expects you not to forsake the gathering of the baptized on a weekly basis, and you can't imagine disobeying God.
27. To celebrate the rich diversity of the Church's calendar all rooted in the life and work of Jesus Christ.
28. Because you want to intentionally be an ambassador of reconciliation in a world of conflict, knowing that God has richly forgiven you so that you might forgive others.
29. To draw encouragement from the fellowship of believers during times of persecution.
30. To draw strength from the Word and fellow forgiven sinners during times of temptation.
31. Because your heart aches for loved ones who have wandered from the Church and you want to lay their names down before God's throne of grace.
32. To ask your Pastor that question you've been wondering about for a while.
33. To witness the Baptism of a child or grandchild.
34. To join the young and old in confessing the ancient creeds of the Christian faith.
35. To receive the Body and Blood of the Lord again on your lips for the assurance that the Lord is always with you.
36. To hear the words of absolution spoken into your ears when there's a sin that troubles you.
37. Because you understand that worship allows you to join angels, archangels, and the whole host of heaven in God's presence, including the faithful who have gone before us.
38. Because you're bringing a neighbor or coworker to God's house to hear His Gospel of unconditional love in Christ.
39. To sit next to that elderly Christian who is all alone and needs your encouragement.
40. To see young children giggling and squirming in church because it's a reminder that a new generation will grow up to grasp the baton of faith from you.
41. Because you have a compulsion to be in the Word, studying it with your Pastor.
42. To pray that God will remember our nation in mercy and give us wise leaders.
43. Because you want to be around people who share the same Biblical values at a time when so much seems up for grabs in society.
44. To thank God with a special offering because He answered an extraordinary prayer request or blessed you financially in a way you didn't anticipate.
45. Because you know that it encourages your Pastor to see you in worship. :0)

"Many are saying of my soul, 'There is no salvation for him in God.' But You, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the lifter of my head. I cried aloud to the LORD, and He answered me from His holy hill. (Psalm 3:2-4)

Crabbit Old Woman

by Phyllis McCormack

What do you see nurse, what do you see?
What are you thinking when you're looking at me?
A crabbit old woman, not very wise,
Uncertain of habit, with faraway eyes?

Who dribbles her food and makes no reply,
When you say in a loud voice, 'I do wish you'd try!'
Who seems not to notice the things that you do,
And forever is losing a stocking or shoe.

Who resisting or not, lets you do as you will,
With bathing and feeding, the long day to fill.
Is that what you're thinking? Is that what you see?
Then open your eyes nurse, you're not looking at me.

I'll tell you who I am, as I sit here so still,
As I do at your bidding, as I eat at your will.
I'm a small child of ten, with a father and mother,
And brothers and sisters, who love one and other.

A young girl of sixteen, with wings on her feet,
Dreaming that soon now, a lover she'll meet.
A bride soon at twenty, my heart gives a leap,
Remembering the vows that I promised to keep.

At twenty five now, I have young of my own,
Who need me to guide and a secure happy home.
A woman of thirty, my young grown so fast,
Bound to each other, with ties that should last.

At forty, my young sons have grown and are gone,
But my man's beside me to see I don't mourn.
At fifty, once more, babies play round my knee,
Again we know children, my loved one and me.

Dark days are upon me, my husband is dead,
I look at the future, I shudder with dread.
For my young are all rearing young of their own,
And I think of the years and the love that I've known.

I'm an old woman now...and nature is cruel,
Tis jest to make old age look like a fool.
The body, it crumbles, grace and vigour depart,
There is now a stone, where I once had a heart.

But inside this old carcass, a young girl still dwells,
And now and again, my battered heart swells.
I remember the joys, I remember the pain,
And I'm loving and giving life all over again.

I think of the years, all too few gone too fast,
And accept the stark fact, that nothing can last.
So open your eyes, nurses, open and see,
Not a crabbit old woman, look closer see ME!

This magnificent, touching, lost poem was written by Phyllis McCormack in 1966 whilst working as a nurse in Sunnyside Hospital, Montrose, Scotland.

The evening group of LWML will meet in the Friendship Library on Monday, July 11 at 7:00 p.m. Mission project for this meeting will be making finger puppets for missionaries to tell the Gospel message. If you would like to participate in this interesting project, please come to our meeting. We welcome you.

The morning group of LWML does not meet during the months of July and August and will resume with meetings in the month of September.

The LWML-SWD convention took place on Saturday, June 18, 2022 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Grafton, WI. Delegates to this convention were Sherri Bond and Luanne Schaefer, who voted on the new mission grants, LWML officers, and other important business. Representing EGL LWML as Young Women Reps were Ann and Christine Wilcox, who were recognized at the convention and received pins from the LWML. The goal for the 2022-2024 Mission Grants is $205,000, with $153,750 going for South Wisconsin District LWM and $51,250 for the National LWML. The Ingathering went to two special charities: "Safe Harbor" and "The Haven." Special guest at this convention was National LWML President Debbie Larson. An inspiring convention!

One of the National Mission Grants to be funded is "Educating Pastors in Africa – Mission Central" for $100,000. Since these men of faith know the culture of the people, they are able to share the Gospel message and the love of Christ in their native countries. This mission grant will go to support 6 missionaries – 5 pastors and 1 layman from the countries of Kenya, Togo West Africa, and Uganda.

The photo above represents a joyous occasion! It is of the ordination of a pastor in the country of Togo.

June 23-25, 2023 are the dates for the 40th Biennial LWML Convention to be held at the Wisconsin Center in Milwaukee, WI. Theme for the convention is Celebrate the Lord of the Nations. This is based on Psalm 33:12-13, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, the people whom He has chosen as His heritage! The Lord looks down from heaven; He sees all the children of man."

Attention Elm Grove Lutheran School families:

Your PTL is changing up what used to be the Back to School Picnic event, as the start of school year is getting pushed back, and this is one of the last available dates to rent the Elm Grove Village Pool (13600 Juneau Blvd, Elm Grove, WI 53122). So, instead we invite you and your families to come mix, mingle, splash and swim with your Elm Grove Lutheran School community at the 2022 Summer Splash!

Our school has the pool rented Tuesday, August 9th from 6:30 - 9:30 pm. There will be light snacks and refreshments, but we strongly encourage you to eat dinner before arriving or bring your own snacks and beverages. This is simply a great event to get the students and (most of the) staff together for a fun summer night. We hope you will join in the fun!

THE YOUTH COMMITTEE is looking for 2-3 more members that are willing to work with Middle School Youth, High School Youth, and/or Young Adults. If you are interested please email youth@egl.org.

COFFEE SERVERS: Coffee and sweets are served after the 9:00 a.m. service and before the Bible study. Volunteers are needed to serve the coffee and treats. Contact John and Luanne Schaefer at 262-784-3106, if you are able to help. Thank you!

RAISERIGHT: NEW!

The Scrip Card Program has a new name! If you want the convenience of purchasing e-cards with an app on your phone, you can create an account and indicate EGL as your fundraising organization. (I can provide you with EGL's organization number.)

I will also be available at church for card purchases during most Sundays in the summer months. If needed, you may also send me an email with your order.

Thank you to those of you who are faithful supporters of this fundraising program for the school.

Chuck Ewert Retires after Six Decades of Singing in our Choir

Chuck Ewert, pictured at right with his wife, Hazel, has recently retired from the choir after 60 years.

When Chuck first joined Elm Grove Lutheran Church, he was looking for ways to get involved. He found joy in singing, so decided to join the choir, and also signed up to teach Sunday School. As longtime EGL members know, Chuck went on to serve on many boards, and has always contributed to our church in a variety of ways. He continued singing in the choir for all these years, and reflects that it's been a blessing to him. He finds great beauty in the music and has learned about church music in the process.

He recounts that in the early years of EGL's choir, they numbered 60. When a group of new members joined our church, and 15 of them were interested in singing in the choir, they wondered how they'd all fit in the loft!

Chuck feels privileged to have served with several choir directors over the years; among them, his son, Rick, our Organist, and Director of Church Music.

Singing in the choir provided opportunities for outreach; including singing on television, as well as at the Bethesda Lutheran Home, Christmas performances at the Lutheran home (Altenheim), and twice at Waupun prison.

Chuck's advice to all - sing joyfully, and consider joining the choir! We thank him for raising his voice in harmony with others who enrich our worship.

Luther said that music ought to be accorded the greatest honour and a place next to theology" due to its great importance.

EGL members took part in the 2022 LifeWalk on Saturday, June 4. The event was hosted by Our Savior Lutheran Church. Below are Sherri Bond, Jean Kruse and Linda Hoffmann walking.

A PLACE OF REFUGE thanks you for your support of LifeWalk 2022. Close to $10,000 was received at the walk itself.

Online donations are still being tallied. Your generous donations will provide much needed support to the women and children served by this important ministry. Not only are their physical needs being met, but spiritual as well. Many baptisms have been celebrated over the years. Anyone who would still like to donate may do so online at aplaceofrefuge.org or by dropping a check in my mailbox made payable to A Place of Refuge Ministries.

Thanks again, Sue Schmalzer

Teaching the Unchanging Truth to God's Children

At Lutheran schools in California and Wisconsin, students of different backgrounds and abilities are taught many important things, including about the love of their Savior, Jesus Christ.

Lutheran schools are as varied as the students they serve and as vital as the Word of God shared there every day. Throughout its history, The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS) has treasured its schools. Instruction in the Word of God and about God's creation, preparing young people for their various vocations, and sharing the Good News with those who come from outside the church remain the heart and soul of Lutheran schools.

On the coast and in the heartland, Lutheran teachers love their students with the love of Jesus. First and foremost, that means communicating the Good News of Jesus' death and resurrection to every child. But that love also includes teaching children to read, write and function in this world for the praise of God and the service of neighbor. In a world advocating worldviews foreign to God's eternal truth, Lutheran schools base their instruction on the Holy Scriptures.

In La Mesa, Calif.

"Our mission at Christ Lutheran Church and School is to develop dynamic disciples for life," said Xavria Schwarz, principal of Christ Lutheran School in La Mesa, Calif.

"And our vision is to do that through very strategic discipleship in our classrooms, a rigorous academic program so that they are relevant in the world, and then thirdly, [by building] a strong sense of community where teachers really enjoy serving together and where kids and families are known."

The school has been educating students in the Lutheran faith for 63 years in its current location. Fewer of its 212 students are Lutheran than in previous years, but the ministry of the school remains unchanged. "The school itself is really devoted to being very Lutheran, distinctly Lutheran," said Schwarz. "That's why we're so devoted to having all called teachers."

But Christ, La Mesa, is more than just a school. The congregation works closely with the school to provide the Gospel to school families and to ensure that the families who send their children for education are connected to the church. Both pastors work closely with the school, as do the directors of Christian education on staff.

Recently, the congregation moved one of its pastors' offices to the school, so that the tie between the congregation and the school is even more evident. Schwarz describes her working relationship with the pastors and congregation as symbiotic and of one mind. The pastors and church staff work closely with the faculty and school staff to continue to proclaim Christ to the people of La Mesa.

Everyone at Christ, La Mesa, desires that the students and their families would know the love of Christ, and that no matter where they go afterward, their memories of the school would be a blessing. "When they think of Christ Lutheran School, they think, 'That was a place I was beloved and cared for,'" said Schwarz. "And they associate that love with their Savior, whether they're in a relationship with Him or not at that time, whether they've wandered or [are] walking closely with Him, that school would always be a place that they fondly love and associate with their Savior."

In Freistadt, Wis.

"Who are you?"

"I'm a child of God, loved and saved by Jesus!"

"What is your purpose?"

"To spread His Gospel with the world!"

"How will you do this?"

"By growing in His Word, serving in His world, joining in His mission — together."

This conversation is repeated hundreds of times at Trinity Lutheran School in Freistadt, Wis. Dr. Sam Seefeld, principal of Trinity, asks these questions of students at least once a week. And they all willingly respond, often shouting with enthusiasm when appropriate. These questions and responses are not just something to say. They drive the mission and ministry of Trinity's faculty, staff and students.

Trinity, Freistadt, is set amid farmland and historic buildings that speak to the school's longevity. Many of the families of the congregation's founding members still attend the church. Trinity was started by immigrants from Pomerania, Germany, who fled religious persecution and settled in Freistadt to freely practice their faith. This group built the first Lutheran church in Wisconsin in 1840. Trinity, Freistadt, has been a member of the LCMS since 1848 — the year after the LCMS was founded.

Trinity's history and heritage continue to mark the church and school both physically and spiritually. As its website

Story by Kevin Armbrust

Lunsford, Spring 2022
Engage (LCMS publication)

says, "More than 175 years later, Trinity continues to support families through Lutheran education, worship services, and ministry through our Lord Jesus Christ. To God be the Glory!"

One might expect that a school with deep German roots would be characterized by uniformity and staid programs. But Trinity Lutheran School may surprise those who enter.

Currently, the diverse student body at Trinity is 60% Caucasian and 40% minority. In 2012, Trinity saw an opportunity to serve the refugee Karen population, who were immigrating from Myanmar and Thailand. Trinity was one of the leading groups that helped the Karen in Milwaukee adjust to life in America. The pastors, staff and members of the congregation all worked to help them feel at home and, most importantly, to hear the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Trinity Lutheran School also welcomed the Karen community. At first, the school had a grant to bus Karen children from Milwaukee to Freistadt. When the grant ended, the congregation decided to continue to serve the Karen families through both the congregation and the school.

Though the school suffered through some years of decreased numbers, Trinity's current enrollment of 270 reflects a 122% growth over the last three years. Currently, Trinity serves families from 32 zip codes across five counties. One decision that aided this diverse reach was participation in the Wisconsin school choice program, wherein families can choose to direct their education dollars to a private school.

The recent growth and diversity have not changed Trinity's mission. The school's values and goals begin with Christ and take seriously each sinner's identity in Him as a result of His death and resurrection. To this end, Trinity was the first Lutheran school in Wisconsin to adopt the national LCMS theological standards. Along with this important and explicit focus, Trinity seeks excellence in academics and development of the whole person.

"We teach Jesus. We are unashamedly Christian. ... We talk about how the saving grace with the Gospel is a message that will never change," said Seefeld. "Even as many of the school districts in our area and really around the country continue to kind of ebb and flow with the tide of the changing social landscape, we will not change and our message doesn't change, because it's rooted in Scripture."

In Hales Corner, Wis.

"Centered in Christ," the mission of Journeys Lutheran School in Hales Corner, Wis., is to "[prepare] students with unique learning challenges to maximize their God-given spiritual, academic, physical, emotional and social potential."

Journeys Lutheran School began in 1958 by a group of concerned parents who desired a better education and alternative for their children with unique learning challenges. The school was first located within Milwaukee Lutheran

High School and therefore had limited space and resources. God provided a school building that could accommodate more students when Hales Corners Lutheran School moved into a new building, thus leaving their old building vacant.

Now located in Hales Corners, Wis., Journeys serves over 80 students who range in age from 8 to 21. Journeys fills a unique need in the Lutheran school system as the only school whose student body is comprised solely by those who have special needs. Unlike many schools that focus on a student's special needs, Journeys provides both excellent academic teaching and nurture through the Word of God and prayer.

"Everything with Jesus in the middle," said Kathy Siegel, who works as a music therapist at the school. "Everything with prayer."

Journeys provides specific and necessary settings for children and young adults with different needs. Teachers are trained and experienced in helping students as they encounter difficulties in learning both academically and socially. Sometimes this means providing a room where a student can go to work out anger or frustration.

"They don't come here because it's a Lutheran school. They come here because of the needs of their children," said Michael Oldenburg, executive director of Journeys. "But we are sharing the love of Jesus with them every day."

Journeys cares for the whole person and encourages each student to see their potential and to know that they are loved by God through His Son, Jesus Christ. During their time at Journeys, they hear the Gospel and learn God's Word in the classroom and in chapel services. The faculty and staff pray for their students and work to equip them for life through academic training and life skills.

It's not always easy. Yet through it all, the faculty and staff consider their role essential. Oldenburg said that the best thing about working at Journeys is "sharing the love of Jesus. It's who we are and who we should be and who the world needs us to be."

Congratulations to our 2022 Graduates!

God's richest blessings to each and every one of you as you follow the plans God has in store for you!

Our Youth Gather at Pewaukee Lake

John and Nancy Wolck volunteered to host a youth gathering at their Lake Pewaukee home. The kids enjoyed swimming, lawn games, fire pit, pontoon boat cruise, a devotion by Pr Skovgaard on what led him into the ministry, and of course lots of food.

WORSHIP SCHEDULE

Sunday 9:00 a.m.

The Lord's Supper will be celebrated at every Sunday service.

Bible Study will be offered after the service.

Thursday 6:30 p.m.

The Lord's Supper will be celebrated the 1st, 3rd, and 5th Thursday.

Beginning Sunday, September 11, we will return to our traditional two service times every Sunday.

"For this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor."

(1 Peter 2:15-17)

The mission of the Lutheran Center for Religious Liberty is to ignite and fuel a uniquely Lutheran response to increasing intrusions, limitations and challenges by the government in the life of the Church, while educating, encouraging and equipping LCMS members and organizations to take informed action in support of marriage, life and religious freedom.

The Center provides input, education, advice, advocacy, and resources in the areas of life, marriage and religious liberty and seeks to engage in discussions in Washington, D.C., to establish partnerships and resources in our nation's Capital for the sake of our churches, schools, universities, and seminaries.
