Give

Thanks

Father in heaven, you are the Creator of all things and therefore source of all things; and to you alone do we owe thanks and praise. Most especially, we give you thanks that we can call you “Father” because of your Son, Jesus Christ whose sacrificial suffering and death on the cross provided payment for our sin and whose triumphant resurrection gives us hope and new life through Spirit-worked faith in Him.

We confess that, like children, we have often been less than thankful for all your care and gifts. We often think that somehow we are “entitled” to your generosity or that we have somehow “earned” all we have by our own hard work and effort. Forgive us and instruct our hearts, by the power of your Holy Spirit, toward true gratitude.

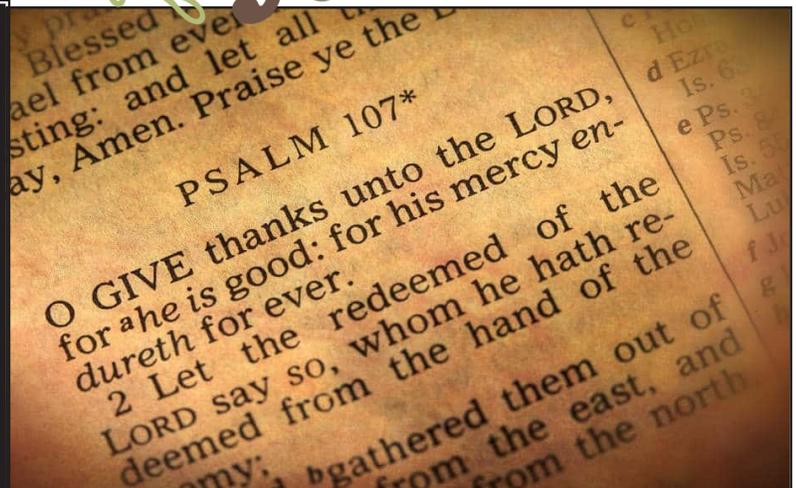

This national day of thanksgiving was established during a time of the chaos and conflict of our civil war. What an important focus to retain amid the continued chaos of our lives in the context of a world where wars continue to rage, fear is epidemic, and death seems to demand victory. Thank you that you continue to be sovereign over all the affairs of mankind as you rule in power and grace on behalf of your Church. Until your Son comes again to reign in glory, may “your kingdom come and your will be done on earth as it is in heaven.”

Thank you that you “give us each day our daily bread.” You provide all that we need to sustain this body and life. Direct and help us to be instruments of your answer to that prayer in the lives of others less fortunate than we.

Holy Spirit, direct the hearts of our nation’s leaders and her people to call upon you for wisdom; and may we truly be thankful. May we become a nation of grateful people.

In Jesus’ name and for your glory,
AMEN.

Rev. Dr. Robert Kasper, LCMS, Michigan District

From Your Pastor

There are a lot of things that happen in November: Election Day, Veterans Day, All Saints Day, Black Friday, Baseball playoffs, NFL regular season, the beginning of the NBA Season, Daylight Savings, and of course, Thanksgiving.

I think that my favorite part about November is getting to wear my flannel shirts again. There is just something about them that I have always enjoyed. They are warm and soft, comfortable. They can be dressy or casual or anywhere in between. I probably get a new one about every year or so, but I have had some for years. I'm sure that some of you are in a similar situation. You have probably had that same comfortable flannel shirt for decades. That's part of why flannel is so enjoyable: it doesn't change, it's not flashy, it doesn't go in or out of fashion, it's always a great thing to wear, and it's always comfortable.

When our worship is centered around Word and Sacrament and ordered by the liturgy, it's a lot like that old flannel shirt you have had for years and years. It's comfortable, it's comforting, and it's something that you can keep coming back to, and enjoy. It isn't swayed by fads or what's popular at the time. The hymns which we sing have not only comforted our people at Elm Grove for decades, but in many cases have comforted God's people for hundreds of years.

Pastor Reseburg

That's because our liturgy and our hymnody is anchored in God's unmovable Word, not on our movable and changing emotions or feelings. As we sing, as we chant, as we speak God's word back to him, we join in with all the saints who have gone before us, and have spoken or sang the same words in praise of the same God.

So this November, as the weather gets colder, return to the liturgy and its simple comforts. Return to the Divine Service and be comforted by the same familiar Word of God, and the same familiar sacraments which create, sustain, and enliven our faith.

Cookies for College Kids!

Pastor Reseburg spearheaded the 2nd annual "Cookies for College Kids" initiative by enlisting church members to bake cookies for our college students. There were a total of 15 packages of assorted delicious cookies mailed to our young members, delivering a taste of home-baked goodness.

Ambassadors of Reconciliation

Thank you to those who were able to, and chose to, participate in the Ambassadors of Reconciliation sessions, studies, and devotions.

We pray that you have found it to be a fruitful exercise.

"Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things." (1 Cor. 13:7)

LWML is once again making soup jars. Cookie jars have returned also!!

These make great Christmas gifts.

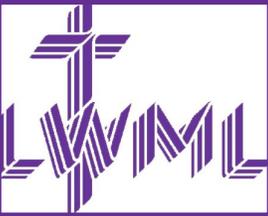

The proceeds help fund the Mission Grants, and also send delegates to convention as voters.

They will be available November 20. Beat the crowd, and call Jean Kruse (262-786-4520) to reserve yours before the actual date.

Our motto is "try before you buy!" There will be samples at the table in the lower level entry.

They sell for $7.00 per jar, or three jars for $20.00.

The LWML morning group will meet in the CLC at 10:00 a.m., on Wednesday, November 2, to fill soup jars for the annual fund raiser. Instead of a Bible Study, we will have a devotion, "Lord, Teach us to Pray," written by Rev.

Robert W. Grimm.

The LWML evening group will meet in the BAAC, at 6:30 p.m., on Monday, November 14, to fill cookies jars for the annual fund raiser.

Both the soup jars, and cookie jars, will be sold in the lower entry of the church on Sunday, November 20.

"What's Your 80?" is a special mission project of the National LWML to remember that the LWML is 80 years old. Enjoy seeing the pictures of the finger puppets and eye glass cases that the evening group created for this special mission project. Telling the Gospel message with the finger puppets in the mission field helps the children to focus on this important message, and the eye glass cases will help with MOST Ministry's eye exam clinics that LWML members have participated with missionaries and doctors in poorer parts of the world. As the children and adults have their eyes examined, they are fitted with glasses that have been donated from the LWML, and also receive the eye glass cases. While the patients are there for eye exams, they also are told the story of Jesus, and given Christian brochures, written in their ethnic language.

Check out the monthly LWML South Wisconsin Mite Goal Thermometer, posted on the LWML bulletin board in the lower entry of the church. It shows how much mite donations have been received, and been paid, to the various mission grants. The new 2022-2024 biennium began at the District Convention in June 2022. We give thanks to the Lord that $60,000 has been given by the 21 zones in the South Wisconsin District. Thank you to congregation members who faithfully donate their mites for spreading the Good News.

"Great is the Lord and greatly to be praised, and His greatness is unsearchable."
(Psalm 145:3)

Barbara Kurth

Stewardship Message

“Investing for Time and Eternity”

The Lord Jesus said, “Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also” (Matthew 6:19-21).

As managers and stewards of what God has entrusted to us, we have a responsibility to manage well what rightfully belongs to God. By storing up treasures in heaven, we safeguard that which we value. There, our treasures are not subject to destruction, damage or even inflation. Nor are they subject to theft since God provides the universe’s greatest security system!

There’s nothing wrong with saving or investing here on earth. In fact, Jesus gave a commendation to faithful stewards for that very action. But the primary place to invest is in what might be called “God’s Eternal Bank.” There are many ways to invest in that special “bank.” When given in the name of the Lord Jesus and for His sake, even a cup of water can be an investment in God’s Eternal Bank. Our financial resources can also be used in this way. Each time we give our tithes and offerings, as well as our “Time and Talents” at Elm Grove Lutheran Church for the glory of God, we are storing up treasure in heaven, “investing for time and eternity.”

The universal principle of giving is found in 2 Corinthians 9:7 — We are to give as we have decided in our hearts to give. In other words, giving (including when to give and how much to give) is a matter of the heart. It is the same principal Moses expressed in Exodus 25:2 — We are to give willingly from the heart.

Dr. George W. Truett was invited to dinner in the home of a very wealthy man in his congregation. After the meal, the host led him to a place where they could get a good view of the surrounding area. Pointing to the oil wells punctuating the landscape, he boasted, “Twenty-five years ago I had nothing. Now, as far as you can see, it’s all mine.”

Looking in the opposite direction at his sprawling fields of grain, he said, “This is all mine.” Turning east toward huge herds of cattle, he bragged, “They’re all mine.” Then pointing to the west and a beautiful forest, he exclaimed, “That, too, is all mine.”

Dr. Truett simply placed one hand on the man’s shoulder and pointed heavenward with the other. “How much do you have in that direction?” he asked.

That’s a good question, isn’t it? No matter what our wealth and financial holdings here on earth may be, what really counts is what we have in store in heaven.

As you consider our annual stewardship emphasis, “Investing for Time and Eternity,” and as you consider how God has blessed your life, to use Dr. Truett’s question, “How much do you have in that direction?” And perhaps even more importantly, as you consider the year which lies ahead and your commitment to the Lord to give to this ministry, what will you — by faith — promise to give in the coming year?

Please plan to be present on “Pledge Weekend,” November 17-20, 2022, as we offer our Pledge Cards, and in thanksgiving for God’s blessings in the past, and in anticipation of God’s provisions in the future. Also, become, or continue to be, an “Active Member” by sharing your “Time & Talents” which is for His glory, and our neighbor’s benefit!

“The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver” (2 Cor. 9:6-7).

Elm Grove Lutheran's Board Members at Work for our Church

The Lord has blessed EGL with many devoted members who serve on the various boards. They are essential volunteers who contribute to the smooth and complete functioning of our church and school. Every month, Seasons will feature the individuals who have been elected to each board. We thank them for their service! Praise be to God.

Stewardship Board

For the 2022-2023 church year, the Board of Stewardship will direct the development of the annual Stewardship campaign entitled "Investing for Time and Eternity." The campaign kicked off during the services on October 27 and 30 and will go through Pledge Weekend, November 17 and 20.

The board will be instrumental in ensuring that each of EGL's boards is featured in a future issue of Seasons to inform the congregation of who they are, and what their responsibilities are. The board will also periodically include articles encouraging members of the congregation to be good stewards of their time, talents, and treasures.

Stewardship needs one more member. Please prayerfully consider giving of your time and talent to serve on this board.

The Stained Glass Art at our Church Depicts the Life of Christ

Window 9

As the end of Christ's ministry nears, Holy Week begins; the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem is depicted by the rayed cross above a white donkey, head held high, striding over palm branches. The parable of the fig tree - one side fresh and alive, the other withered and sere, is also represented, along with the scales of justice, symbolizing the foretelling of the Last Judgement.

Mark 11, 1-14; Mark 11, 20-26

Last fall Seasons began to feature the beautiful stained glass windows that grace our Nave.

The windows are the result of the vision, the faith, and the love for God's house which resulted in a bequest from Carl K. Egelhoff dedicated to the glory of God in his memory and the memory of his beloved wife, Viola R. Egelhoff.

Healthy Holidays 101: Tips and Tricks

The holidays are full of family, friends, great food, and great memories. But they aren't always compatible with a healthy lifestyle. When the holiday season rolls around, it's easy to get a little lax on the healthy eating and exercise that we typically maintain.

Coupled together, all those festive parties and the stress the holidays bring, can mean a hit to our overall well-being from November to New Year's. But it doesn't have to be this way. Fortunately, with a few tricks, it's possible to maintain a healthy lifestyle year-round.

Find healthy alternatives to your favorite dishes

No need to give up your holiday favorites — all they need are a few modifications. Use less butter and bacon in green bean casseroles, use yogurt instead of mayonnaise in the deviled eggs, and bake the turkey instead of deep frying it.

It's all about moderation

Moderation will be your saving grace during the holiday season. Enjoy an indulgent, festive dinner — but make sure that your meals surrounding it are healthy and nutrient-dense. Have a light lunch, like a salad, and opt for a healthy breakfast the next morning, like avocado on whole wheat toast. By eating healthy during the holiday season, you can afford to go all out for a few big events.

Opt for homemade instead of processed foods

Homemade everything can be difficult when you have a lot going on, but it can also ensure that you're eating much healthier. Canned, processed, and premade foods are full of excess salt and sugar that you can avoid by making the dishes yourself. Making the food from scratch will also make you much more aware of what you're eating and when, giving you more control and awareness in the long run.

Add more vegetables

It's easy to go all-out with our favorite recipes, but sometimes eating better is as simple as keeping more healthy choices on hand. Increase the number of vegetable dishes on the dinner table, finding small twists to dress them up without making them unhealthy. Roasted asparagus can be beautiful on its own, and roasted carrots or sweet potatoes are rich in taste and a bright pop of color.

Slow down during meals

While the decadent food might make us eager to eat, a key tip to staying healthy over the holidays is to slow down during mealtime. Multiple studies have shown that eating slowly can give our stomachs enough time to send the hormonal signal to our brain telling us that we're full, which will stop us from accidentally overeating. This can help us maintain better portion control as a result.

Remember portion control

Portion control will be your best friend throughout the holiday season. Eat small snacks during the day, and have three medium meals instead of three extra-large ones. This will improve your digestion and reduce the amount you're eating, both during meal times, and overall. If you're worried about portion control, use smaller plates or reduce the number of dishes you serve at each meal.

Take a walk after dinner

Walking after a meal can give you several distinct benefits. First, you can get exercise at a time when you might not otherwise be exercising as frequently. It can also provide some quiet alone time to de-stress and aid your digestion all at once. All of these factors combined are good for your physical and mental health, and can contribute to weight loss. To maximize these benefits, research suggests that walking immediately after a meal is better than waiting even an hour.

Don't forgo exercise

There's a million other things to do, and if you're away from your home gym, working out can seem even more difficult. Despite that, it's important to maintain regular exercise for both your mental and physical health. Exercise is good for your body and can also relieve stress.

Try to stick to your typical sleep schedule

This can be particularly challenging with the increase in parties and family in town. But sticking to your sleep schedule will improve your quality of sleep. Studies have shown that, unsurprisingly, irregular sleep schedules can lead to poor sleep quality, fatigue, poor eating habits, and daytime sleepiness that can take time to reverse. Avoid this by going to bed and waking up as close to the same time as you usually do.

Take time for yourself

The holidays are full of family and friends, and while this can be a great thing, it can also be draining and stressful. Whether you're staying with family over the holidays or just attending a large number of events, remember to take time every day for yourself.

Eating well and staying healthy can be difficult over the holiday season, but that doesn't mean it's impossible. By maintaining your physical and mental health with some of these easy tips, you'll be able to start the new year off strong.
